Our first meeting as a community association

Many thanks to all those people who attended our inaugural meeting at the New Hope Community Centre in October. Barbara Kendall opened the meeting, made apologies for those who could not attend and set out the aims of the meeting.

It was decided after several suggestions to call our new association the Bell Tower Community Association and the constitution was discussed. This included appointing officers for the association; Simon Bolton volunteered to act as secretary, and Sandie Gill as treasurer. Reading Borough Council project manager Chris Bloomfield made the valid suggestion that we should involve younger people in the BTCA and we agreed to make provision for junior membership.

We have a name!

After much discussion we agreed on a name at our inaugural meeting. We are the BELL TOWER COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION, named after the E P Collier school tower that's such a prominent local landmark.

Councillor June Orton recently wrote to us: "Season's Greetings to the Bell Tower Community Association members. As your local councillors we are really pleased that the Association is up and running; we will continue to attend meetings of the Association and will also ensure that you hear of any developments in the area or other items of information which we think will affect you all."

The group discussed future events, including a summer fayre/street party, carol singing, Reading in bloom, involvement with the school's activities, transport, parking and the new IDR plans, all of which were excellent ideas and would need additional meetings to follow these ideas up. It was decided that further community meetings would be held to discuss topics like transport, parking and the IDR plans.

Additionally, Councillor Bet Tickner said that a new bus shelter has now been erected by the council on Caversham Road opposite Caversham Bridge Motorcycles, as a direct result of previous community lobbying. Chris Bloomfield congratulated the group and wished us all success. More volunteers were needed to act as road representatives anyone interested is asked to contact Barbara at 77 Addison Road.

We're now on the web!

Starting out at Highdown

Lauren Bolton on her first few days... Tuesday

Today was really great! Our tutor teacher is called Mr Grewal, and he is really nice to us. First we were all introduced to him then put into alphabetical seats; I am next to two boys called Russell and Liam. Next, he said a huge welcome to us all and began to talk to us about himself and the school. After this, we had break time for a while before we went back to more chat with Mr Grewal. After about an hour we had an early lunch of either a packed lunch or a school dinner (which was delicious apparently). Then after a good run about we all lined up to leave for home. I hope tomorrow will be just as good!

Wednesday

Another excellent day! We had registration in our tutor room with Mr Grewal before ICT (Information Communication Technology). For ICT we had Ms Doherty, an Irish teacher with a really great accent. For the whole of the lesson we were sorting out our passwords and user names - quite boring at first, but then we got on to more interesting things like making up our own passwords. After that we had break time, and after that we had English, which was just talking about class expectations - boring! Then we had lunch then went home at around 1.00pm.

Thursday

Brilliant! We had History first, then games (PE) - playing this was actually rather fun, not your usual sprinting in the freezing rain! Next was break time and after this was Art and Design - one of my favourites. After this we had to go home early after a very fun day.

My first few days at Highdown are so much different from Emmer Green Primary where I used to go, but I'm enjoying it all the same (apart from the homework!)

Can you help?

We always need volunteers! Please contact Barbara at 77 Addison Road. Or join us for only £1 per person per year. We're busy negotiating members' discounts for local goods and services! Sign up at our next public meeting or contact Barbara at 77 Addison Road. Details on our web site soon.

Be charitable and environmentally friendly!

ABS Printing in Randolph Road are collecting stamps for charity. Just drop your used stamps in at your convenience!

E P Collier school collects used toner cartridges from printers for recycling.
